Dattopant Thengadi Centre for Development Studies

Rashtra Rishi Dattopant Bapurao Thengadi(10 November 1920 – 14 October 2004) born in a village Arvi of Wardha district of Maharashtra is known for his unique qualities of institution building, leadership & organizing skills and propounding the Third Way of socio-economic development based on the ideology of Sanatan Dharma. He was greatly influenced by the philosophy of Ekatam Manavvad propounded by Pt. Deen Dayal Upadhyaya. According to him, neither right nor left is the solution to the ills of the world – degradation of the environment, concentration of income & wealth, unemployment and poverty, exploitation of labour, dominance of the western culture and values guided by individualism and self-interest. The real solution comes only from Indian culture based on the dharma and is the only solution to the problems. Sh. Thengadi Ji was ardent supporter of using labour intensive technologies, decentralization of decision making and use of country made products. He was against western motivated globalization. He founded and nurtured some of the well-known and today's leading organizations such as Bharatiya Mazdoor Sangh(1955), Bharatiya Kisan Sangh(1979) and Swadeshi Jagran Manch(1991). He authored many books of which most referred are: The Third Way; Modernization Without Westernization; What Sustains Sangh? Our National Renaissance, It's Directions and Destination; Nationalist Pursuit; The Great Sentinel and The Perspective. He was a great scholar, philosopher, visionary and orator yet modest, deeply rooted in the past and completely in tune with the modern time and sensitive to the issues of national importance. His ideas and philosophy is much more relevant than ever and thus needs more research and fair implementation.

Rational for the Establishment of Centre

Today world community in general and India in particular are facing several socio-economic crises in many areas. The prominent problems include growing problem of un-employment, rising threat to environment, concentration of wealth into few hands and threat to Indian value system including to the family system. Thengadi Ji's contribution and views on social, economic and political issues, provides an alternative to the philosophies of socialism and capitalism both of which have already failed in the world. It is in this context Chaudhary Bansi Lal University, Bhiwani decided to setup "Dattopant Thengadi Centre for Development Studies" in the faculty of Management and Commerce.

Objectives

The centre shall endeavor to achieve the following objectives:

- To initiate research on issues and ideas brought to public debate by Thengadi Ji.
- To bring his ideas and philosophy into public domain by networking with academic institutions through seminars, workshops and conferences.
- To promote academicians to take research work on issues and ideas propagated by him and publish the findings in research journals, newsletters and newspapers.
- To see how socio-economic policies in India could be evolved on Indian philosophy and value system.
- Special focus shall be on sectors/ topics like employment generation, optimum utilization of local resources, environment protection, modernization without westernization, FDI& WTO related issues, labour welfare, farmers' distress, rural development, poverty elimination, health & education etc.
